

Gulf College Collaborates with OSET

In order to foster a genuine interest in innovating education with emerging learning technologies, Gulf College collaborates with Omani Society for Educational Technology (OSET) in having a 3-day conference held on 24th to 26th March 2015 at GC Mabelah Campus.

Dr. Ali bin Sharaf Al Musawi, Chairman of the Omani Society of Education Technology thanked the Chairman and CEO Dr. Issa Al Bulushi for allowing the conference to be held in Gulf College. He said that “as these two sectors live a transition phase which needs concerted efforts and hope that the conference will be a giant step on the road. He also extended his appreciation to the Research Council (TRC), LNG, Al-Roaya, Al Shabiba, Times of Oman and His Excellency Dr. Said bin

Hamod Al- Rubaie, Secretary General of the Board of Education, MoHE. He reiterated that more than two hundred professors, teachers and students formed a support for the conference and its activities and also with to continue coordination and get support from the educational and technological institutions in the Sultanate.

Prof. Dr. Taki Al Abduwani, GC Dean made mention that this conference will be a great help for all of us to know issues of social networks, cloud computing, open educational resources and mobile learning and other issues in educational technology. OSET has been enacted since its foundation and hold conference early two years to discuss important scientific themes that coincide with the professional developments in the field of education and information technologies.

The opening ceremony was concluded by giving tokens of appreciation to Dr. Issa Al Bulushi, Chairman and CEO and to other notable honored guests.